Benjamin F. (Tad) Edwards IV Named Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2018 Heartland Regional Award Winner

ST. LOUIS, June 18, 2018 – Benjamin F. (Tad) Edwards IV, founder, chairman, CEO, and president of the Clayton-based financial services firm Benjamin F. Edwards & Co. was named a “Regional Award Winner” at the Ernst & Young (EY) Heartland Entrepreneur Of The Year 2018 celebration in Minneapolis, company officials announced today. The award program, sponsored by Ernst & Young, recognizes entrepreneurs who excel in areas such as innovation, financial performance and personal commitment to their businesses and communities.

As a Regional Award Winner, Edwards will now be considered for the EY Entrepreneur Of The Year national awards, which will be announced in November. Last month, Edwards was initially selected one of 31 finalists in the Heartland Region, which encompasses Minnesota, Greater Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

“When we started our firm, our sole mission was to build a state-of-the-art financial services company that provides our clients and advisors outstanding products, premier service, and informed advice in a culture of trust, integrity, and mutual respect – all while having fun,” Edwards said. “Today, our dedication to this special brand of client first service has not wavered, and I share this honor with each of our 116,000 clients, 250 advisors, and 535 employees who made it possible.”

Tad Edwards founded Benjamin F. Edwards & Co. during the economic upheaval of the Great Recession when many financial services companies were being acquired or going out of business.

“We knew then that clients and advisors alike would respond enthusiastically to a financial services company built on a business model that relied on the age-old tenet of outstanding service, while also offering a sophisticated and scalable technology platform and equity ownership opportunities for employees,” said Edwards. “With 67 offices in 26 states, we have a lot of room for growth in the months and years ahead.”
